'ROUND 'N' 'ROUND

Every self-respecting communist should have something, a child, a dog, a cat, a Ford or the likes of that.

There's nothing quite like the bright sayings of a Ford, for instance, to fill up the allotted space on a dead, dead night.

Jim Ritch, up in Vallejo, has "Hefty." What Jim would do without little Hefty Kreft to write about is an unanswered question.

McIntyre has his two dogs, dogs and his long-suffering wife.

Bruno Lessing also has a long-suffering wife.

To keep in line with the other prominent day-by-dayers we obtained Maxie, the battling cat.

But, alas, Maxie was not long for this world.

He battled himself right to eternity or wherever good kittens go.

So now we have procured Frjole Jugando who, from all appearances, has a long and profitable life before him.

If you insist on a description, the Frjole is a nondescript pint-sized cat, dark grey with inky stripes.

If his health holds up, you may anticipate, or dread, hearing more of him.

YANKS BLANKED FOR 1ST TIME IN 308 GAMES

NEW YORK, Aug. 3—UP—Long, lean Lefty Grove, ace pitcher of Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics, today snapped the New York Yankees all time record of consecutive scoreless games at 308, tagging the Yanks with their first shutout since August 2, 1931.

Grove, who led the American League pitchers for the fourth consecutive year in 1932, held the Yankee big guns to five hits as he blanked Joe McCarthy's world champions, 7 to 0.

On August 2, 1931, Wiley Moore then with the Boston Red Sox, shut out the Yanks in the second game of a doubleheader.

Nearly 50,000 fans saw Moore score his victory, limiting the Yanks to three hits. George Pipgras, now with the Red Sox, was Moore's opponent on the mound that day.

Since then the strongest pitchers that the league could muster have been pitted against McCarthy's heavy hitters, only to be repelled. Although the Yanks had several narrow escapes, they always managed to get at least one run before the game was finished.

Grove's pitching feat was the more remarkable today because he bowled over the champions' home run kings, Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig.

The mighty Babe struck out three times, once with the bases loaded, and Gehrig twice. Of the five singles Grove allowed, the veteran Earl Combs made three and Tony Lazzeri and Bill Dickey one each. He struck out a total of six men and allowed four walks.

Stored in the vaults of the U. S. mint here are $11,000,000 pennies and enough copper ingots to make 138,500,000 more one-cent pieces within two weeks, according to P. J. Haggerty, mint superintendent.

"They said I could use the theaters afterward for preaching, the temple elders agreed it would be an opportunity to reach hundreds of thousands of people with sermons, but I've dismissed the proposal entirely."

Mrs. Albert V. Stokes, San Francisco district president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, wired Governor Ralph on behalf of the fourteen counties in her district earnestly urging his veto of the bill.

A similar message was sent on behalf of the Business and Professional Women's Club by Miss Ida M. Reed, past president of the state organization.

Numerous others, including representatives of the Congress of Parent-Teachers, the Women's City Club and the San Francisco Welfare Council, added to the volume of letters and telegrams that have swept upon Sacramento urging Ralph to seal the fate of the discredited measure.

Doomed Convict Given Reprieve

SAN QUENTIN PRISON, Friday, Aug. 4—Less than 12 hours before he was scheduled to be hanged, Joseph Regan, received a reprieve last night from Governor James Rolph, Jr.

The reprieve which delays the execution until September 15 was signed by the governor on receipt of an eleventh hour telegram from the Los Angeles bar association urging clemency.

Rolph was scheduled to hang at 10 a. m. today. He was convicted in conjunction with Jack Green for the killing of Detective Lieutenant Hugh Crowley of Los Angeles during a theater holdup.

Green, a Salt Lake City youth also has a reprieve effective until September 15. Both have been reprieved twice before.

Tribunals Will Aid Communities In NRA Campaign

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 3—UP—Plans to organize tribunals in all communities to direct NRA campaign and rule on individual problems were outlined today at meetings here and in Los Angeles, Reno and Salt Lake City.

Pappas was sentenced to life imprisonment when he withdrew his plea of not guilty and pleaded guilty to the charge. His attorney claimed Pappas "inferred hallucinations."

Southern California representatives named as members of the state advisory board are Jack Warner, Charles M. Brown, William Keckard, Oscar R. Howard, Creel.

These men will direct the campaign in their area, and tribunals will appoint tribunals for every community.

Board members here wired Governor Rolph today urging him to sign the state recovery act in order to enable coordination of state and federal campaigns.

These decided one of their first acts would be to assist small business men who are baffled by the NRA procedure and fearful the plan might jeopardize their business.

Community tribunals will "meet border-line cases and prevent injuries," Creel said.

Board members here wired Governor Rolph today urging him to sign the state recovery act in order to enable coordination of state and federal campaigns.

Restaurant owners of Richmond are asked to be present.

HARLOW-GABLE FILM TO SHOW AT FOX TODAY

The reunion of Jean Harlow and Clark Gable is accomplished in "Hold Your Man" which opens at the Fox theater today.

After scoring in "Red Dust" the studio seemed Anita Loos to write another torrid romantic tale for the new picture and "Hold Your Man" is the result.

The new picture has an underworld flavor and is a rapidly moving, ready and worldly story. Miss Harlow plays the part of a crude female who is willing to allow herself to be used as the lure in a "love racket."

She is the center of many hectic affairs, but it is Gable who wins the platinum blonde.

Gable is seen as a light-moraled chap who finds his real self when Miss Harlow is sent to prison for affair that he has instigated.

Stuart Erwin heads the supporting cast which also features Dorothy Burgess, Muriel Kirkland and Paul Hurst.

Added Subjects

"Scrappy's Party," a new Scrappy cartoon comic; "Room Mates," a two-reel comedy with Frank Alerton starred, and the Fox Movietone talking news reel, are added subjects on the program today with "Hold Your Man."

POTRERO & SAN PABLO AVE.

May I drop you off somewhere?" She was walking toward a low-slung roadster, the curb Imogene Lucan's eyes narrowed a little as she replied.

"THAT'S so sweet of you, Sure it wouldn't be out of your way? I've got to be way across town at the Astorbi any minute now—and my car is in for repairs. Isn't it dreadful when that happens and you have to take taxis? Only I don't suppose that ever happens to you," she added coyly as she slipped in beside Eda Lou.

"As a matter of fact, I find it a lot simpler most of the time in town. But today it was so good I just had to drive."

Eda Lou threaded her way expertly through the traffic toward the hotel, where she dropped Imogene. As she swung back into the traffic lane and headed toward the Queensboro Bridge and Long Island, she didn't look back, so she didn't see Imogene start toward the hotel entrance, then pause and turn up the avenue, muttering to herself.

"Darn it! Now I've got to walk all the way across town again. The little snoot! Of course she didn't believe a word about the car in for repairs; and I'll be damned if I'll break my last bill for cab. I wonder if it's too late to run into anyone who'll blow me to lunch."

She swung along briskly, making haste to pass every smart restaurant along the way. With luck, she might run into one of the boys.

Why the dickens did Bob have to be out of town this week of all weeks, and her alimony check not due for another ten days! Of course, Bob didn't know about the alimony. She'd have to break the news of that blasted marriage to him before long, or somebody else would tell him about it! Let's see, she'd known Bob about two months now. With luck, he ought to be about ready to propose matrimony. She'd been playing hide-and-seek carefully this time. And Bob had a very impressive nature. She smiled to herself as she walked along.

IN the low-slung roadster, Eda Lou drove along happily. The power of the car always gave her a happy feeling. Now she was on the open stretch. The road streaked like a white ribbon ahead. Faster, faster, a little faster! This was the life, living her own way, going into town whenever she wanted to. What fun had been today in the agency. What a perfectly sweet boy that Emerson was—not at all as she had imagined an actor would be. And that darling couple, John Booth and Eleanor Hardwick. Tomorrow she'd be seeing them again! Ted Emerson was dear!

Then she wrinkled up her nose. He had no business talking to her as if she were a baby. Oh, but there were so many things she needed to know. And he was going to take her on the rounds tomorrow! What excuse would she give her mother tomorrow? Of course, this wasn't really fair. But she was so bored with everything, and besides she played the lead in the school play? And hadn't she been told at parties that the tapping she had learned in the gymnasium was practically professional? Of course, just the minute she located any kind of a part, no matter how small, she'd confess to mother.

"Never so insulted in all my life," the other girl rambled on. "Do you know what has just happened? Of course, you wouldn't understand. But I've just been in to see my agent, and he actually suggested I go back into the ensemble! Can you imagine that? The ensemble! And only last week I told him I was through with musicals, that I was planning to do something really serious, a straight play—well, not too serious."

"Of course I do. How have you been?"

"Agency. She was bristling with ill-concealed fury. Suddenly her eyes met Eda Lou's with recognition. Her facial expression softened.

"Why, Eda Lou Smith—imagine meeting you here! Don't you remember me? I'm Imogene Lucan. Remember, at Bob Coe's party last week? Imagine meeting you like this!"

Eda Lou instinctively drew back into her shell. Instantly she had recognized this girl.

and write you a role?" exclaimed Tad. "You are Haveland Smith's daughter, aren't you?"

"But what difference does that make?" said Eda Lou, flushing. "Except that, if mother knew I was here, she'd probably be furious!" She didn't see the look of triumph that Eleanor tossed at Tad, and with more the casual interest.

"How vision of my three great aunts and suspender buttons! What difference does it make? Your name in any cast would make every class magazine in America. And Barry threw you out! Wait until I tell him just wait! Infant child, how did you wander into this den of Broadway?"

"TENTH: Good taste, Cheerio Joe, Tony Craig.

ELEVENTH: Joaquin, Barry Grimes, Hidden Night.

CHARLES HAINES, Richmond motorcycle officer, returned empty-handed from a deer hunting trip to Lake county,

It was probably because she was paying more attention to her thoughts than to the road, that she neglected to see the car coming out of the Coe place until she was almost on top of it. She swerved her wheel around fast toward the open field opposite the Coe estate, and steered herself for a crash.

Popular Local Pair Reveal Marriage

John Burns Palmer and Miss Frances Laura Freethy were quietly married in Salinas Wednesday according to a surprise announcement made here yesterday.

Both are very well-known and popular here. Palmer is playground and swimming director of the Richmond city recreation department and his bride is a member of the faculty at Grant school.

The couple were married in the Methodist parsonage with Rev. Zierk officiating. Mrs. Katherine Freethy, mother of the bride and Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Palmer, parents of the bridegroom, were present.

They are to honeymoon in southern California and on their return next week will take up residence in the Yvonne apartments on Sixteenth street.

Mrs. Palmer is a graduate of the local high school and San Francisco State Teachers college. She has been active in the Wesley Methodist church.

Palmer attended Richmond schools and is a graduate of University of California. He is a member of Phi Mu Delta fraternity and has been active in local Y. M. C. A. work.

Bourbon Women Planning Many Future Events

The Richmond Women's Democratic Forum met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. M. Calkins, president.

Mrs. Catherine Creedon of Rosewood was named to fill a vacancy on the executive board and Mrs. Laura Record was appointed as publicity director.

Arrangements were made for a meeting on September 7 in the Quinque hotel. The event will open with a 12:30 luncheon and during the afternoon Mrs. Annette Abbott of the San Francisco Democratic headquarters will address the gathering. She promises an interesting talk.

Reservations for the day may be made with the secretary, Mrs. Minnie Sanderson, at Richmond 41-42.

The executive board will meet with Mrs. Calkins on Monday evening, August 14, to plan a card party for the near future. A full attendance is requested.

"Mob Scenes" In Order At Legion Party

It seems fortunate that the American Legion auxiliary planned to sponsor a card party instead of a pingpong tournament or something which required more room in view of the result yesterday.

Mrs. Herbert Civic opened her home, 717 Bissell avenue, for the occasion and early in the afternoon found it filled and overflowing with guests for the games. Seventeen tables were filled in addition to a number of non-players who enjoyed conversation throughout the afternoon.

The prizes were awarded to Marjorie Bengtson, first in bridge; Louis Tarr, first in whist; Mrs. Earl Davis, special award and others. The prizes were very attractive and were donated by Aubrey Wilson, a local department store and a beauty shop. One was given at each table.

Among the many out-of-town guests were: David Wright, district president; Bernice Ahern and Mrs. H. B. Fraga, all of Martinez; Mrs. Pearl Smart of Concord; Mrs. Pixie Jacobs of Crockett; Mrs. Florence Hampton, Mrs. Benson and Mrs. Day of Oakland and Mrs. Doris Vulevich of San Francisco.

Despite the many in attendance, the ladies of the auxiliary were able to provide delicious refreshments for all, after the close of the card games.

Mary Dommes Given Party On Birthday

Mrs. Elizabeth Jones was delightedly surprised with a birthday luncheon given yesterday by two of her daughters, Mrs. Leona Calfee and Mrs. Vera Dice.

The affair took place at the Tsar Caffee home and brought together a group of Mrs. Jones' intimate friends. The luncheon table was charmingly decorated and a unique note was the intimate rendezvous of three years ago. Beer is the only alcoholic drink on the menu, but the boys and girls feel a bit suckerish ordering beer at cutthroat prices. If the beer were needed and possessed of that old time kick they'd gladly pay up and shut up and come back for more.

Delicious refreshments were served to the following: Mesdames Ethel Dahl, John Roeder, E. O'Brien, John Behr, Jerry Riordan, M. R. Foucanon, G. Gordon, John Bishop, Lorena Mattimore, Barbara Tickel, R. Drennan, Sidney Dommes, Syria Kreuton, Gladys Lebedur and son Allen, and Miss Marion Dommes.

Onetah Council, Tribe, Witness Home Movies

Motion pictures were an interesting feature last evening of the meeting of Onetah tribe, Degree of Pocahontas. John A. Miller projected the films which were of spots of interest he viewed during his recent trip to the east.

There was a large attendance of both Pocahontas and Redmen members.

Mrs. Esther Jakobsson, Pocahontas, presided over a short business meeting. John Miller, Esther Miller and Mrs. Jakobsson were in charge of the social time.

The topic for the day was "Old Books and New." Mrs. Bennett presented a list of new books and other efforts which she considered well worth reading. She also reported on a recent state convention in Santa Cruz.

A tea was served by Mesdames Aubrey Wilson, Fred Cooper, W. A. Brown, Sr., Bennett and Watson. There was a good attendance at the meeting.

The society will convene again on Thursday, September 17.

Mrs. James Carey of Everett St., El Cerrito, is visiting relatives in Los Angeles.

Charges are Moderate

It is well to remember that a beautiful mortuary does not mean high prices, as this firm proves. With all the refinements and comforts to be found here, charges are never higher than the smallest incomes can easily afford. By including everything in one plainly marked price, we have made it possible for every family to make an appropriate selection without financial hardship.

Missionary Society Holds Big Session

The Women's Foreign Missionary Society or the Wesley Methodist church enjoyed an interesting meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Sadie Sanders, 650 Fifth street.

Mrs. Mary Shoemaker opened the sessions with devotionals and a business meeting followed during which the opening of the mite boxes took place.

A demonstration of stewardship and the mite box was given by Mrs. Sanders, Mrs. Olive Craig, Mrs. Sue Clark and Mrs. Lucretia Pennington.

A fascinating and instructive talk was given by Mrs. Walker of Red Bluff, a returned missionary from the wilds of that continent.

Mrs. Clare Thomas, a member, was particularly honored on her birthday and was presented with several lovely gifts by the society.

The afternoon closed with the serving of delicious refreshments.

Englishwomen To Meet On Thursday

The sewing club of Unity Lodge, Daughters of St. George, was last evening invited to the home of Mrs. Edith Cochrane, 2835 Esmond avenue, next Thursday afternoon.

An interesting meeting is planned.

The lodge also made arrangements for a public whist party to be held in Richmond clubhouse on Thursday evening, August 17. Nice prizes are being planned.

Mrs. Margaret Bland presided over the regular business meeting which was followed by the serving of refreshments. The social committee included: Mesdames Irene Wilcox, Lottie Waddingham and Ellen Banner.

And if you don't think that doted mail is popular in Manhattan, brother, you're crazy. Practice paid off.

Plans were discussed for a meeting of the Thimble club in the hall next Thursday afternoon.

There will be a covered dish luncheon at one o'clock and the ladies expect to be busy sewing all afternoon.

A full attendance is asked.

Hollywood Film Shop

HOLLYWOOD—UP—it is one thing to be beautiful and another to be smart, and something else again to be both. Bette Davis is a candidate for the latter group if for no other reason than her recipe for a lengthy screen career.

Bette is one of those players who have discovered that it is hard to become a star and harder to remain one.

"The film public is kind but it is also fickle," observes Bette. "The fans demand entertainments, and since they foot the bill, why shouldn't they? It means simply that a star, to last, must be versatile."

"The public can become very easily 'fed up' with a type. It demands constantly changing characterizations in varied stories and it is entirely up to the star to produce. If the player can handle different roles successfully, he can remain in favor. As far as I'm concerned, I like playing different roles. But if only for selfish business reasons I would demand variety and make some one a stepping stone."

For one of Bette's much desired "different" roles, she is now working in "Bureau of Missing Persons" portraying one of the 100,000 persons who mysteriously vanished in the United States every year. There is originality in that, apparently, since nothing like it has come to the screen before.

Bette's logic is amply borne out by the records of stars who have weathered the combined attack of time and glamorous competitors.

She may be light headed, too, but Bette's level headed, too.

Twelve Thirty Club Is Feted

Mrs. Velma Mae Quinn of Twenty-second street entertained yesterday for members of the Twelve-Thirty club. There was a good attendance at the gathering.

A luncheon was served prior to the business meeting and the afternoon was devoted to whist.

The next meeting will be on Thursday, August 17.

Pythian Sisters Sewing Club Is Entertained

Mrs. Lucille Deathe was hostess yesterday afternoon for a pleasant and busy meeting of the sewing club, Contra Costa temple, Pythian Sisters.

The ladies enjoyed a covered dish luncheon and spent the afternoon in the tying of two quilts. Those present were: Mesdames Hallie Bazzell, Frances Michel, Bertha Bagwell, Ruth Klick, Gertrude Smith, Josephine Lamble, Evelyn Juillerat, Juanita Debarrrows, Lulu Mortenson, Mauds Grice and Lucille Deathe; Misses Lorraine and Shirley Michel.

Honor Auxiliary In Business Meet

Honor auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars held a routine business meeting in Memorial hall last evening.

Mrs. Mabel Davis, president, conducted the session and later refreshments were served by a committee with Mrs. Theresa Zimmerman as chairman.

Mrs. Zimmerman will also head the committee of arrangements for a social whilst which will follow the meeting on Thursday evening, Aug. 17.

Initiation is to occupy the business session on that date.

Announcement was made that Mrs. Nina Vickery who is an active worker in local veteran circles has been honored with appointment as district inspector. Her work will cover territory including Richmond, Pittsburg and Martinez.

Alwon Club Resumes Its Meetings

The first after-summer session of the Alwon club took place yesterday at the home of Mrs. David Erickson, 2381 Gaynor avenue.

A dainty luncheon was served by the hostess and later whilst was enjoyed by the 12 members present.

Prizes went to Mrs. Ted Hathaway, Mrs. Daisy Mayo, Mrs. Laura Schramm and Mrs. Lavina Christian.

The next meeting will be on Thursday afternoon, August 17, at the home of Mrs. Burnett Hanson, 459 Twelfth street.

Your Good HEALTH

By CLAUD N. CHRISMAN, M.D.

Blisters Are Often Caused by Improperly Fitted Hose and Shoes

BLISTERS on the feet come from shoes that are too tight or too loose. The most common causes of blistering of the feet are the heels and toes. Stockings that wrinkle on the heel or toes that slip on the heel are the chief culprits. The toes may become blisters because of the heat sweat or the toes overlap each other or the toes are not tucked in properly. As many foot troubles are caused by stockings that are too small, as by shoes that are too small. Many of the causes of ingrown toenails and overlapping toes that I see are caused by too small stockings and will be corrected if we are as careful choosing the size of our stockings as we are of our shoes.

WE SHOULD be especially careful in seeing that the shoes and stockings of growing children are the size of their feet. No other economy is more false than to keep the child wearing either shoes or stockings that are outgrown merely because they are not well worn enough to be discarded. After we have rubbed a blister, do not open the sack if you can help it. If very much fluid is in it, the blister will open itself. After it has opened, cut away the loose skin and clean the uncovered wince. Protect it from dirt and friction.

OF COURSE, the best way for a wound to heal is by being left exposed to the air and sunlight but it is also exposed to dirt and bacteria, so it is much better to cover it. Zinc adhesive plaster either put directly over the raw place or used to hold a sterile dressing in place is good treatment. Indeed the plaster left in contact with the raw surface for twenty-four hours may leave it completely healed. It is antiseptic to some extent and it protects from dirt and irritation.

IF YOU must continue to use the rubbed spot, give it all the protection possible. Open the blister carefully with a sterilized needle and press out the serum, patting the skin down smoothly. Then treat with an antiseptic like iodine or mercurio-chrome and cover with thin smooth dressing. Be sure the stocking or glove fits without a wrinkle over it, because heels blister so frequently that nature forms a protective pad in the shape of a grizzly layer over the heel. This disfigures the heel and makes it still more difficult to fit the shoe properly.

A REGULAR course of treatment with an iodine and glycerin combination will sometimes reduce this growth. It will at least tend to keep the flesh free from the bone and make the skin more pliable, thus avoiding the tension that causes the blister. It must be treated antiseptically like any other wound.

A very helpful dressing to be applied, principally over night, is one composed of Boracic acid, oxide of zinc, eucalyptol and petrolatum. It is both antiseptic, soothing and healing. Do not neglect any blister.

QUESTION: My daughter has an ugly row of dark brown spots across the back of her neck following sunburn, what can I do for them? M. L. M.

ANSWER: Some of our worst sunburn comes from the habit of pinching the water and then climbing out to dry out in the hot sun. They forget that the water, especially if it clings in drops, acts as a burning glass. These spots are the good-by kisses of a row of water drops. If you look closely you will find the skin slightly pitted or keratosed. Any skin bleach ought to lighten the color, but only X-ray treatment can stir the skin to its former activity.

A Faded Rug

To restore the color of a faded rug, first of all brush it well all over, then rub it with a cloth wrung out of water to which a little ammonia and salt have been added. This revives the color wonderfully.

To Cool the Pie

Place the pie on a wire rack when it comes from the oven, so that it may cool on the bottom as well as the top. It will add greatly in keeping the bottom crust dry.

EVERY WOMAN CAN CULTIVATE A LOVELY SKIN

By JACQUELINE HUNT

AFTER our chats about analyzing your features and deciding on methods of improvement, the chances are your checking-up revealed that your most glaring fault is your skin. Few women have really lovely skins—sometimes because they do not understand how the skin functions and usually do not know how to care for it—sometimes simply because they do not take the time and trouble to care for themselves properly.

Most women, I believe, belong to the first group, although few of us really do as well as we know we should. Women are unable to analyze their own skin conditions in many cases, and so do not know what routine to follow for its improvement. Sometimes the trouble lies with the method of cleansing, or the improper diet; sometimes it is a more serious condition that has resulted from abuse to the skin and requires prompt corrective treatment.

If your skin condition does not respond to simple treatment, then it would be wise for you to consult a dermatologist. Please do not say that you cannot afford it! Wait until you see what else I have to say. There is a new instrument that is being used in shops all over the country that rectifies the skin sufficiently so that its condition can be accurately determined. Tiny flaws like broken capillaries that might lead to serious trouble later on are revealed by this invention.

In the shops using this new device, skin examinations and suggestions for its care are given free of charge. When you know something about your skin you will be able to treat it more easily. No more money spent for preparations that do not agree with it! You know it is sometimes difficult to determine your own skin condition—skin may seem oily and temperamental to you may really tend to be dry and sensitive, and you may injure it severely by using preparations that are too strong for it.

First, let me tell you something about the skin. It is composed of three layers. By the condition of the epidermis, or outer skin layer, it is possible to tell what is going on beneath it. The epidermis, or outer skin layer, acts principally as a protective layer. It is constantly throwing off dead cells in tiny flakes. When the skin flakes off, these little flakes are thrown off too quickly, and unless treatments to slow down this action are taken, coarse pores, a leathery skin, or a very tender, sensitive skin develops.

In the oily skin the dead cells are not discarded as promptly as they should be and therefore they tend to pile up unless something is done to hasten the process. Wrinkles, sallowness, blemishes and coarse pores result if the condition is not treated at once.

The second layer of skin, the corium, is very important, as it contains certain elastic tissues and the sebaceous glands which control the natural oils of the body. When the tissues are shriveled, the skin will be baggy and wrinkled; when they are healthy, the skin will be firm and have good tone. Facial massage and certain creams and tonics are frequently needed to stimulate the circulation, and build up this layer.

The third layer, or Subcutaneous tissue, contains the fat cells which feed the elastic tissues of the corium and act as a sort of cushion for the nerves and the blood vessels.

With this brief description of the skin you will be better able to understand the reasons for the skin treatments that I shall outline for you in my next few columns. And if you would like more detailed information, just write to me, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope!

MODES AND MANNERS

QUESTION: If one rides a short distance in a taxi, and the meter reads thirty-five cents, how much should be given as a tip?—Howard L. E.

ANSWER: The least that one can offer is ten cents, and fifteen if one is inclined toward liberality.

QUESTION: Is it correct to eat bread and butter before one's order arrives?—Olive B.

ANSWER: Many indulge in this habit, and when they are very hungry it is excusable no doubt, but it can hardly be said to be in the best of taste.

Tasty Dishes for Today

PRE-COOKING IS A TIME-SAVER

By JUDITH WILSON

THE woman without a maid is most concerned with methods of preparing and serving nourishing and attractive dinners with a minimum of effort these hot summer days. She can do it and still have a little time to enjoy occasional outings to the woods or beach and to entertain her friends from time to time.

If you haven't tried the little trick of marketing and planning your menus ahead, getting the details out of the way and working intensively during the cool hours of the morning, you will be surprised at how much simpler and easier the work of feeding a family becomes. If everything is prepared in advance it will not take more than fifteen or twenty minutes to plan an appetizing meal on the table at night.

Build your menus around meat that can be pre-cooked and served with a brief reheat or cold. Meats to be reheated include meat loaf, baked ham, croquettes and meat casseroles or the canned or delicateness meats. If there is one baked dish on your menu, plan to bake two or three others at the same time, even though you will not take more than fifteen or twenty minutes to plan an appetizing meal on the table at night.

Remember that if your main course is cold, the meal will be more satisfactory if it includes hot soup, a hot vegetable, a hot bread or dessert. Prepare your vegetables in advance—that is, string the beans or shell the peas, but since they require such brief cooking periods, it is seldom necessary to pre-cook them.

Chilled gelatin or fruit mixtures and frozen concoctions are summer dessert favorites. The frozen desserts have the advantage of being off your mind once they are made—no fussing around like you have to do when you make and ice a cake, or bake and add a meringue to a pie.

veal Chops Casserole

To prepare this classic main course in the first instance get six-ounce veal chops cut about an inch thick.

Prepare one cup of carrots cut into little balls with a French cutter, one cup of potato balls, one cup of tiny white onions and one cup of peas.

Place half of the vegetables in a deep casserole and add one cup of boiling, salted water, three whole cloves, one teaspoon minced parsley and one-eighth teaspoon pepper.

Dredge the chops with flour and brown on all sides in hot fat. Lay on top of the vegetables and cover with the re-

New York — Bridal jewelry has been much emphasized recently, the going in very wide lot. Indeed, sometimes it is said to be a luxury item.

Jewelry which are selling are essentially a stack of an inch thick, often with the surfaces beaten by crimping and mailing. They are sold at $250 to $400, as little finger rings for sports costumes and are even, it is remarked, being sold as wedding rings to men.

Hair Ornaments

The fact that women are becoming more and more interested in evening wear has stimulated a new line of hair ornaments, such as the "fancy" and "oriental" styles. The "oriental" style is the "chinese" and the "jap" type is sponsored, respectively, by the "oriental" and "chinese" lines.

Giant Caisson Launching Set for Next Week

OAKLAND, Aug. 3.—With appropriate ceremony, the largest caisson ever constructed, which will form the base of the concrete and steel center anchorage of the San Francisco-Oakland bay bridge will be launched at 4 o'clock a week from tomorrow at the Moore dry-docks. Chief Engineer C. H. Purcell was informed today by Joseph A. Moore, head of the drydock company.

The caisson is a huge rectangular steel and timber "egg crate," 92 feet wide, 197 feet long. When anchored to the rock on the floor of the bay it will stand 478 1/2 feet high, 298 1/2 feet of which will be above the water line.

Suspension End

This cellular concrete and steel anchorage midway between San Francisco and Yerba Buena Island will serve as the common end of two separate suspension bridges in the West bay crossing.

In the great block of concrete, standing to a height of a 48-story building from the floor of the bay, will be 590,000,000 pounds of concrete, 16,300,000 pounds of structural and reinforcing steel, and 1,192,000 board feet of lumber.

The quantity of concrete and steel in this center anchorage would be sufficient to rebuild all the major downtown office buildings of San Francisco, according to Moore.

A smaller caisson for the first substructure work in the Eastbay will be launched in a few days for Bridge Builders, Inc.

The large caisson for the center anchorage will be sunk by the Transbay Construction Company, under the supervision of Charles F. Swigert, president and J. A. MacEachern, vice-president.

The smaller caisson for the East Bay sector is itself 80 feet wide by

Cleo Caress In Tough Break at Cerrito Races

Only a tough break made Cleo Caress lose a neck decision to Sy Sampson's Thrills in the double option ninth last night at El Cerrito. With Rhodes' fine Caress dog moving up fast, Demo swung over and blocked her momentarily.

Thrills made doubles good for $36, but Cleo, who had some students of the game aboard, would have been worth $278. The students were sad today. They'll have to study some more. However, a goodly bunch was carrying tickets on Thrills and redounded cheerfully.

Manager George Chapman announced today that Jack Spencer, kennel of twelve dogs, who raced at Biscayne and Flagler in Florida last season, arrives Monday at El Cerrito track. Two more kennels arrived yesterday. C. A. Burnett brought many of Hart's Dictator offspring and Frank Falk brought Cash Winner.

No. 2 boy produced eight dogs in the money in eleven races last night at El Cerrito. Bone Fide, Dearlen and Just King and Dot H. winning, earline surprised at $32.40 to win and $14 for third, while Good Taste was $18 for third in the tenth race.

Rhodes' Brownie E topped the night with $24.40 first, $25 second and $20.20 third in the third race.

Stribling Gets Nod Over George Neron

BECKLEY, W. Va., Aug. 3.—W. L. Stribling, 192, of Macon, Ga., won a decision over George Neron, of New York, in a 10 round bout last night.

Par Means Nothing to Texas Golfers

FORT WORTH, Tex., Aug. 3.—Supreme contempt for par was manifested in a pro-amateur golf event at Glen Garden Club here. Of the 17 twosomes teeing off, 16 had a best of par 71 or better, the cards ranging down to 65.

134 feet, 6 inches, long.

These caissons, or technically these steel cutting edges for the caissons, will be launched, built up to a height of from 50 to 75 feet, towed over to the pier sites on the bay and sunk by being weighted with concrete in the walls between the cells.

Mud is dredged cut from under the caissons as they touch bottom by means of clamshell buckets operating down the cylinders within the cells.

These cylinders and cells are eventually filled with concrete after the steel cutting edge is resting firmly on rock.
